The Average Boy.

Much of the blame for defective young men lies at the door of our men of affairs. But few men ever think of giving a word of encouragement, yet a boy in his teens is easily glorified. A heart to heart talk in private with a growing boy leaves an amazing impress.

Take the matter of thrift as an example. What bankers has called a boy into the director's room and invite him to open a saving account. Thrift is such an essential virtue that no young man can take his place in the affairs of men until he has acquired it. Credit cannot be granted to thriftless. Therefore if a young man is without thrift he is without credit. Without credit he is helpless.

Furthermore, the boy or young man who has acquired thrift has shaken from himself a score of shortcomings that follow in the wake of the spendthrift.

In the fourth period, from twenty-one to twenty-eight, the young man becomes "set," as they say. It is the period in which he decides upon his work or profession. It is the period in which he establishes a home, and begins to take his share in the work of community building. As you find him at twenty-eight, you find him at forty or sixty.

If we were to emphasize two virtues over the many we would say clean converse and thrift. Any young man with a clean mouth and the virtue of thrift has taken a long stride toward good citizenship.

A campaign with view of obtaining at least 10,000 members was decided upon by the executive committee of the Tennessee Federation of county Farm Bureaus at a meeting in Nashville last week. It was also decided to employ a full time field secretary for the organization.

The county farm bureaus have accomplished some splendid things for Tennessee farmers and under the direction of the state organization several projects designed to be helpful to them are now under way. That the organization is meeting with the approval of the farmers is demonstrated by the fact that those who have been members from the start are more interested in it than ever. Reports from over the state show that the county organizations are rapidly increasing their membership and the year promises to bring a market growth of the state organization which will enable it to increase its usefulness.

LOCALS

The natural, refreshing sleep of a healthy body is enjoyed by those who take Tanlac.—Anderson & Haile, Gainesboro, Tenn. Advertisement.

Mrs. G. A. Robbins and little daughter, Bonnie, after an extended visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William York, and other relatives here, left Wednesday morning for their home in Coalinga, Calif.

Draper & Draper Co. have had a big sign painted on the south side of their store house. Hereafter, strangers will have no trouble in locating their place of business, if he can read. The sign was painted by Chandler, an expert sign painter, of Murfreesboro. He has several more to paint while here.

R. B. and J. M. Drapers, of Trousdale County, were in Gainesboro, this week.

Joe Loftis, of Roaring river, was in town Tuesday. Mr. Loftis has a good farm to rent for cash. Call him up.

J. B. Billingsley, Justice of the Peace of the 12 district of this county, was in town Monday. "Uncle John" as he is familiarly called, happened to a very painful accident a few weeks ago, when a cow, which he was milking, jumped and knocked him over, breaking his right arm just above the wrist. He, also suffered the loss of a good horse a few days ago, but says the horse dying didn't cause him near so much pain, as the broken arm. "Uncle John" invariably mixes a lot of humor most everything he tell. He says he is going to ask the county court at its next quarterly session, for an appropriation for the loss of his "hoss." We believe the court ought to allow it.

Internal revenue collector H. Raggio Young, is here for a few days stay with his family. If you have an income tax to pay he will be glad to assist you in fixing it up.

Grover Haile came from California last week, for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Haile.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Dudney, of Free State, Friday, February 24th, a 11 pound girl.

FOR RENT—My farm of a 112 acres, on Roaring river, in the ninth district of Jackson County. Will rent cheap for cash. If you want it, call me at once at Laborn Mabry's. Home phone.
